New Delhi,

A bond between a brother and a sister is the best one as they have the most amazing relationship of trust, friendship, and loyalty. As Rakshabandhan is just round the corner, Ferns N Petals has come up with environment friendly Rakhis and gifts this year to make this eternal bond of love stronger and fresh forever.

Grow Green Rakhis, Floral Rakhis (made of fresh flowers) and exotic flowers & plants arrangement in personalized planters are the unique concepts that Ferns N Petals is offering this Rakshabandhan. As the festival of Rakshabandhan is aptly named for the auspicious message of 'the promise of protection', FNP is helping in making it true by providing an extensive range of eco-friendly rakhis and gifting options.

These plantable handmade clay rakhis are little attempt made by FNP to nurture the environment we live in, along with celebrating the day dedicated to sibling love. Brothers can plant these rakhis after wearing and watch them spring to life. The clay base dissolves in the soil and the seeds secured at the edges grow into a flowery plant. These rakhis are 100% eco-friendly, the outer box includes- One Rakhi, Instruction Card, A biodegradable planter and a packet of soil.

Apart from this, another unique concept is floral rakhis made of fresh flowers. Floral rakhis were a big hit among our customers in the last couple of years. Hence, we have added some more new designs to take this concept to the next level.

Rakshabandhan is never complete without gifts. Therefore, to make the festival greener and cleaner, we have come up with green gifting options as well. Gifting a plant always brings positive energy and offers a relaxing atmosphere. It brings freshness and brightness in décor and promotes prosperity, happiness and good fortune.
