Mumbai ,

Hindustan Wellness, one of India's most innovative preventive and managed healthcare company, today announced the launch of six COVID-vaccination centres in Delhi. The company plans to scale up its operations to more than 15 covid vaccination centres across Delhi NCR very soon. The response from people has been very encouraging and on day one itself, the first centre witnessed a footfall of over 200 people.

Hindustan Wellness COVID-vaccination centres are integrated to the government portal, so that individuals who are above 18 years of age and are looking at getting their jabs can book theirs through the Co-Win app. They can choose the Hindustan Wellness vaccination centre closest to their home to book a Covishield shot at their preferred time slot and at government approved rates. The company is also in talks with Covaxin and Sputnik and plans to introduce these vaccines for customers from August onwards.

Siddharth Sangwan, Founder & CEO, Hindustan Wellness said, "Given the criticality of the situation, we have been working round-the-clock with various government authorities and business partners to set up these vaccination centers. Over the past one month, we have ensured a hassle-free experience and minimal wait-time for our customers both in testing and vaccination. We want to be at the forefront in the country's battle against Covid-19 and inoculate maximum people before the third wave strikes. We will continue to help the community in this testing times with our expertise and best-in-class services."

Besides setting up vaccination centers, the company is also plans to come up with mobile testing and vaccination units for people who are not able to go out for their vaccinations or getting their COVID tests done. Once approved by the government, these mobile units will ply within the city to help people get their tests done as well as get vaccinated at their doorstep.
